

Dries Maes

DEVELOPER

After 3 years as a project manager in the public IT sector, I retrained as a .NET developer. At FWO I grew into deputy head of ICT: I led 4 teams and introduced a modern Scrum structure and CI/CD cycle. Because I missed hands-on work, I deliberately moved back into development. At Vanden Broele, my team and I brought a new product for local subsidy applications to market. I am eager to learn, easy to work with and I like to take responsibility.
